

An architectural rendering of Eastern Market Metro Park. The scene depicts a vibrant urban park space. In the foreground, a curved wooden planter box filled with colorful flowers sits next to a gravel area with several outdoor tables and chairs. A person is seated on a wooden bench. In the middle ground, a large blue paved area, possibly a basketball court, is visible with people walking and a dog. A white pergola structure stands nearby. The background features lush green trees and a brick building under a blue sky with scattered clouds.
